

Valentine's Day

I'd never thought I'd ever meet you then scared to death I couldn't keep you Swore no one would ever change me 'til you came into my life

As I watch you sleeping it makes me realize the sun rises on your smile shines from your eyes Your simpleness and good loving keep me walking for miles

The setting rays kiss your face brown eyes glittering shadows frame like antique lace if the sun don't rise and fall on your well being the world would have no reason to keep spinning to satisfy your needs, I'd give me all as you are my reason to rise and not fall
